The Justices' Case .- In the case of Bott vs. Messrs. Clayton and Howlett, the justices of Manchester district, Judge Clopton, of the County Court, required of Mr. Fitz patrick, counsel for Bott, as a condition pre cedent to a consideration of the motion to remove the said justices from office, that he should dismiss the civil suits now pending in the Circuit Court against them, with which condition Mr. Fitzpatrick declined to comply; whereupon the Judge dismissed the motion. It is said that the reason actuating the Judge was the idea that a re moval of these justices would be detrimental to their interests on a trial of the civil suits. It is also rumored that information will be filed against them for malfeasance in office, and a petition presented to the Judge asking for their removal.

Literary Society.—A number of young men in this city bave formed a literary society and elected the following officers : W. J. Clotworthy, president; W. S. Blankenship, vice-president; B. W. Nunnally, secretary; D. B. Winfree, Jr., sergeant-at arms.

Scribner's Magazine for March, containing, among other interesting articles, a contribution from Mr. W. Page McCarty, of this city, has been received from J. T. Ellyson, 1112 Main street.

A lively interview with General Custer is published in the Toledo Sunday Journal: When asked how he thought General Sherman would do for President he is said to bave replied, "Capital suggestion! H is a trump any way you take him. Very intelligent views of men and affairs, and ucquestlonably a great general. He would run like a steer." As for Sherman's Indian policy when elected: "There would be one grand Indian war, and then there would be no more Indians. It would settle the Indian question beyond the tomfoolery of Quakers and sentimentalists, who don't seem to know that every Indian everywhere is simply a brute. You can't civilize an Indian any more than you can teach a rooster to lay goose eggs. Some western man and a civil-ian will most likely be the Democratic nominee. The thing is in such a mux it is hard to say. Of course this is confidential, as we regular army chaps don't talk politics, but I think Hendricks has the best show of any of them."

The March Popular Science Monthly will contain the conclusion of President White's address on "The Warfare of Science"; a paper "On Fallacies of Testimony Respect-ing the Supernatural," by Dr. William B. Carpenter; and the first of a series of elementary lectures on electricity, illustrated, delivered by Professor Typdall at the Royal In titution of Great Britain.
